Eugene Dutton no longer in the employ of the Globe Laundry, and is not authorized to solicit work for it.

A bill will be presented to the next Alabama Legislature for the removal of the capital from Montgomery to Birmingham.

As a Westbound C. and O. freight passed the residence of William Spromberg, Fifth Ward, about 10 o'clock last night, some one threw a lump of coal through one of the windows. Fortunately no one was hit.

Richard Roe, a second-term convict from Portage county, serving a seven-year sentence in the Ohio Penitentiary for burglary, died suddenly of heart disease. He served his former term for a similar offense from Cuyahoga county under the name of Kelly. When about to die Roe told his nurse that he wanted to die a Christian, and was told to pray. He feebly petitioned, "Please, God, forgive my sins," and "death passed, the end."

Autumn days.

There's something kind of hearty-like about the atmosphere

When the heat of summer's over and the coolness falls in here—

Of course we miss the flowers and the hum of the bees;

But the air's so appetizing; and the landscape through the haze

Of a crisp and sunny morning of the airy autumn days

Is a picture that no painter has the color to mock

When the frost is on the pumpkin and the fodder's in the shock.

—J. Whitcomb Riley.

E. H. Martin's fifty Pure Delight won a race at Latonia Friday.

Farmers, insure your tobacco with Duley & Baldwin, Maysville, Ky.

Patronize the Globe Laundry for first-class work. Family washing a specialty.

Sheriff Bell of Louisville took sixteen prisoners to the Frankfort Penitentiary last week.

Colonel J. T. Moffett, one of Ironton's most prominent citizens, died of apoplexy last week at the age of 66.

When purchasing Powder, Shot and Lead Shells don't forget to call at the Frank Owens Hardware Co.

The failures for the past week have been 29 in the United States against 320 last year, and 39 in Canada against 45 last year.

The Trimmed Bonnets just received at Mrs. L. V. Davis's cannot be surpassed this side of New York. Be sure to see them.

The six-year-old daughter of a Mrs. Powers of Caltensburg fell off a Cincinnati Southern train which was going at full speed. The tot was not seriously hurt.

Hanson Kennedy of Carlisle has been appointed by Governor Brown to represent the Ninth District at the State-Imperial Convention which will meet at Louisville on the 24th inst.

The gross earnings of the L. and N. for the fourth week in September were $511,350, an increase of $4,369 over 1983, but a loss of $98,800 as compared with the same week in 1992.

Rev. D. W. Robertson, the new Presiding Elder of Maysville District, will preach some of his first sermons at Helena, where he holds quarterly meetings the 13th and 14th inst. A large crowd is expected.

Philadelphia has 56 night schools in full blast. There is but one institution in the world superior to the night school. That is the day school. The Quaker City merits congratulation. Other cities should try to emulate her.

The great testing machine used at the United States Arsenal at Watertown, Mass., will break by tension a five-inch bar requiring 330 tons stress, and immediately after the strain and shock of recoil due to this performance will break a horse hair and indicate accurately the required rupturing tension, which is one pound.

John J. Riley of Lexington, who has been a Magistrate of Fayette county since 1890, was indicted by the Grand Jury for malfeasance in office. He is the Magistrate who prostituted his office by making it a professional ball-bond mill.

He would charge negroes arrested for trivial offenses from 50 cents to $4 to bail them out, which is in direct violation of the law.

Dun's Weekly Review of Trade, issued Saturday, says: With the chief markets of the West and South sinking in value, it is not strange that purchases of manufactured products are smaller than was expected. Wheat has touched the lowest point ever known for options, and cotton the lowest ever known in any form with the present classification, and the accumulation of stocks in both products is discouraging to purchasers for an advance. Producers are compelled to sell at prices below the ordinary cost of raising crops. Under the circumstances it would be very strange if the demand for manufactured products should be quite as large as in other years.

Governor Brown has designated Friday, November 9th, as Arbor Day in Kentucky.

The Whiskey Trust has begun a general reduction of expenses at a rate that is expected to save $13,000 a month.

The next issue of The Illustrated Kentucky, published at Lexington, will contain a page of Flemingsburg's beauties.

Howard Turnhill, aged 36, residing in Ashland, O., took a mixture of iodine and croton oil by mistake. He died.

A canvass of the registration at Frankfort shows that there are more Democrats in town unregistered than there are Republicans.

The people of Estill county are searching for an unknown man who, Saturday afternoon, assaulted Mrs. Wiley White and bent her to the death.

The London Times in effect informs the English and lynching missionaries to this country that they deserve the snubbing they have received.

The Louisville and Madison Woolen Mills, worth $100,000, sold at auction Saturday for $20,000. Good times for woolen mills, gentlemen.

This is County Court day at Carlisle, and General F. Wat Hardin is going to jolly the Democrats of Nicholas with one of his old-time Democratic speeches.

Part of the Representatives to the Grand Lodge, I. O. F., left for Paris this morning. The rest will leave via the K. C. this afternoon and tomorrow morning.

The corner-stone of the Confederate Monument will be laid at Louisville on the 15th inst. by the Grand Master of the Grand Lodge, I. O. F., left for Paris this morning.

There are about 41,000 voters registered in Louisville—so many in some precincts that it will be impossible, under the law, for all of them to vote, allowing only one minute of time to each voter.

C. C. Williamson, who was Assistant Postmaster at Wells, Martin county, is in the log at Louisville, being charged with complicity with Messrs. Hall, Cooper and Damron, the syndicate of Northeastern Kentucky swindlers.

Now that the Germantown Fair is over we suppose everybody will settle down to politics; after November 6th our Democratic friends will settle down with the blues, while the Republicans will begin business.

Dr. Howard Henderson has given to the religious world a new book having this alliterative title—"Ethics and Etiquette of the Pulpit, Pulp, Parish, Press and Platform; or, a Manual of Manners for Ministers and Ministers."

Susan M. Humphrey, widow of the late Thomas E. Humphrey, who was run over and killed at Newport on the night of December 19th last by a train of the L. and N., filed suit in the Circuit Court at Bardonia against the road for $50,000 damages.

The story is printed that Hon. C. M. Gay, Democratic candidate for nomination for Governor, was recently invited to speak at Caltensburg, and that, before he got out of town, the Carlisle Democratic Club presented him with a bill for $17.35 for the services of the band.

The tenth annual reunion of the Seventeenth O. V. I. will be held at Aberdeen, Thurgood, and Friday, October 19th and 19th. The committee in charge have spared no pains, and the one thing needed to make the affair a success is a full attendance of the survivors of the gallant regiment. An interesting program has been prepared, and a good time is guaranteed.

At Flemingsburg Judge Harbeson granted Mrs. D. G. Simons an allowance of $500 pending the trial of the divorce suit brought by her husband, and also $175 per month for maintenance, the latter to continue from the time the suit was filed until next January. The $200 was placed in the hands of a trustee. Mrs. Simons asked for $300 per month and $1,000 for expenses.

Four of the leading druggists upon warrants issued by the Food Inspector, charged with selling adulterated drugs. The warrants were issued after a chemical analysis by Prof. Pennell of the articles in question, Paskola, via marina and unfermented wine. His report is said to have shown these preparations to be adulterated with the meaning of the statutes of Ohio.

The wedding of Dr. Harvey Keller and Miss Delma Crutcher, well known young society people of Frankfort, is announced to occur early in November. Dr. Keller is the son of Hon. Green R. Keller of Carlisle. The Carlisle Mercury and Clerk of the House of Representatives for several terms, and Miss Crutcher is the daughter of D. C. Crutcher of the well known firm of Crutcher & Sparks, Frankfort. Both parties have many friends throughout the Bluegrass section.

Jim Fields was arrested Saturday night for breaking into George T. Wood's drug warehouse. His trial will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Independents of Lexington have issued a call for a mass meeting for tonight to put a county and city ticket in the field and combine with the A. P. A. element to defeat the regular Democratic ticket.

The committee apportioned by the citizens to secure the signatures of all property holders of Lexington to the agreement by which they would not insure in companies in the "combine," reported all was one-half. On the business men in the city had signed the agreement.

The Ashland News says: "There is no announcement as yet of an intention to resume at Norton the coming week, or in fact at any subsequent period. Everything is in shape, but the demand is yet lacking." We thought all along that you fellows were just going to boom things when your Free-trade Tariff Bill was passed.

A young Michigander brought suit against his one-time fiancée for the value of a diamond ring presented to the fair one in the days when Cupid reigned and all was one-half. On the plaintiff's admission that he had frequently kissed the young lady during the period of their engagement, the Judge threw the case out of court. Thus another legal precedent is established for bachelors to precede in their late.

The concert given by the Smith Sisters at the Opera-house was most delightful, and was patronized and enjoyed by the best people; but it was not a financial success by a majority of about $60.

The only entertainment that is sure to "draw" a piece of land in a lot of build, dogs, an ox cart and a crew of "bum" performers. The finer the show the fewer the patrons. The "bummer" the performance the bigger the crowd. This is plain language, but it's rock-bottom truth.

SHE LIT OUT.

A Young Married Woman Takes Leave of Owingville.

A special from Owingville says a great sensation has been caused by the sudden and mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Rue Wells, a young married woman, who, with her husband and two children, has been making her home with her mother, Mrs. Abigail Wilson, one mile Southeast of that place.

A few days ago Rae Wells and wife sold a piece of land to Penn and Henry Ewing for $1,000, receiving $100 in cash and a note payable March 1st for the balance.

Mr. Wells took the $100 and went West on prospecting tour.

Mrs. Wells went to Owingville and discounted the note at the Farmers' Bank, receiving the money, something over $900.

Returning home she went into her room, and when she was called next morning she failed to answer.

Investigation revealed the fact that she had left some time during the night.

She has not been heard of since, and no clue to her whereabouts.

KEPT HER WORD.

Effortful Fall of a Lady Fromout From the Clouds.

Miss Beatrice Van Dreden, aged 17, made a balloon ascension Saturday afternoon at the Fair Grounds at Frankfort, N. Y.

A sudden wind was blowing at the time, and she was advised to postpone the trip, but as that was her birthday and all the people assembled there knew her, she refused to be disappointed them. The balloon was cut loose at 10 o'clock. When it had reached a height of 1,500 feet Miss Van Dreden endeavored to disengage the parachute fastened to the balloon, by which she supposed making her descent.

In some way she lost hold of both the balloon and the parachute, and fell like a stone to the ground. Her body was driven into the ground nearly twelve inches by the shock of the fall. All her bones were broken, and she did not breathe after reaching earth. Her father and mother were among the first to reach her. They were frantic with grief.

Miss Van Dreden had been making ascensions for three years. The past summer she worked through the Eastern states. In all she had made about twenty ascensions, never suffering a mishap before.

She has lately been living in Frankfort, Ky. She was to be married this week, and was expected to be her last ascension—and it was.

"Side Tracked."
The successful comedy-drama, "Side Tracked," will be witnessed at the Opera-house next Saturday evening. "Side Tracked" has justly proven itself a surprise and delight to the amusement public, and its popularity is miraculous. Louise Lewellyn's Columbian dance and the side-tracking of the tramp are positive novelties.

Our Amateurs.
The Young Regulars were defeated Saturday by a score of 9 to 0. They said the umpire gave them the worst of it, and they threw up the game.

The Young Regulars defeated the Lower Enders Saturday morning by a score of 15 to 13. They were men to them, but they got there just the same.

The Cooper Burgess Rec Baseball Club challenge Polk Hicks's nine for a game of ball next Saturday at the Fair Grounds and please get men our size and not ex-Regulars. Please answer through THE LEDGER.

William Humphrey's nine defeated Jno. Clayton's nine Saturday by a score of 10 to 10. Batteries—Gray and Gordon, Clayton and Wheatley.

BEAUTY AND LIARS.

It All Depended On the Sex, According to Sam Jones.

An amusing incident occurred at the close of Sam Jones's sermons in Pulaski, Tenn., the other day.

Stepping down from the pulpit, folding his hands across his breast and looking solemnly upon the audience, the great revivalist said:

"I want all the women in this crowd who have not spoken a harsh word of husband for a month past to stand up."

One old woman, apparently on the shady side of sixty, stood up.

"Come forward and give me your hand," said the preacher.

The woman did so, whereupon Jones said:

"Now turn around and let this audience see the best looking woman in this country."

After taking her seat the revivalist addressed the men.

"Now, I want all the men in this crowd who have not spoken a harsh word of wife for a month past to stand up."

Twenty-seven grand, big, strapping fellows hopped up out of the audience with all the alacrity of champagne corks.

"Come forward and give me your hands, my dear boys."

Jones gave each one a vigorous shake, after which he arranged all of them side by side in front of the pulpit and facing the audience. He looked them over carefully and solemnly, and then turning around to the audience he said:

"I want you all to take a good look at the twenty-seven biggest liars in the state of Tennessee."

DOWNCAST DEMOCRATS.

SITUATION IN THE SEVENTH DISTRICT AND ELSEWHERE.

Mrs. Culbert Bullitt Pronounces Her Husband a Fool. Her husband heard—All Turn Up at Frankfort.

A special from Frankfort says Mrs. Culbert Bullitt, one of Kentucky's most distinguished daughters and leader of Southern aristocracy, announces her preference for Judge George Denny, Jr., for Congress as against W. C. Owens, the Democratic nominee.

Mrs. Bullitt distinguished herself last spring as being the first woman in America who publicly expressed sympathy for Colonel Breckinridge.

Her sentiments on this subject were published in almost every newspaper in the United States, and her portraits adorned the pages of not a few of our standard publications.

She is known and loved all over Kentucky, and will influence not a few votes for the Fayette county candidate for Congress this fall.

Especially will Mrs. Bullitt's announcement go with force among Colonel Breckinridge's followers, who know Mrs. Bullitt's feelings toward the distinguished soldier and statesman.

The prospects of Democratic candidates at the coming November election gives the party leaders in this state more uneasiness than they have experienced for quite a while.

Frankfort is being made a political headquarters by the politicians from different sections who are conferring occasionally in regard to the situation.

Hon. Holla Hart and Congressman Payson of the Ninth District and General P. W. Hardin and Senator Lindsey were all there a few days ago, apparently in the canvassing business. Report has it that Mr. Hart, being unable to conduct his campaign on the stump, wants Senator Lindsey and General Hardin to continue to do his speaking for him.

Judge Pugh, the Republican nominee, is pushing Mr. Hart so hard that the friends of the latter realize they must do something to save him.

The party leaders are disturbed over the disaffection among Democrats in Franklin county.

This fact led to a meeting of a number of prominent party workers, who set on foot the work of organizing a Democratic Club, which is to be used as an engine to unite as far as possible the unharmonious factions.

The Breckinridge element in the country precincts is so obstreperous that a large per cent. of it cannot be gotten in line.

The Owens men, also sour on Judge B. G. Williams, the Democratic nominee for County Judge, he having been an active supporter of Col. Breckinridge.

Many of them are enlisting in the service of Judge W. B. Sneed, an independent candidate.

Politics is all torn up in the county, and things are gloomy, both for Congressional and State purposes.

According to the statements of many leading Democrats themselves.

Cincinnati Theatrical Excursion.

Only $1.50 round trip. On Wednesday, October 10th, the popular C. and O. Railway will run its first theatrical excursion of the season. Tickets good on regular train for Nov. 15, 17 and 19, carrying extra coaches for this occasion, will return on regular trains Nov. 16, 18 and 20, leaving Cincinnati at 7.40 a. m., 2.35 p. m. and 5.30 p. m. October 10th, 11th and 12th.

See all bills and Cincinnati papers announcing the excellent attractions during this week. Both matinee and evening performances.

On to Richmond.

October 16th, 17th and 18th, 1894. One fare for the round trip to Richmond, Va., and return, and also to Old Point Comfort and return, via Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, the only line from West to Virginia cities. Visit the Virginia State Park. Inspect the cheap farm lands of the Old Dominion, where the climate is very nearly perfect, where there are no cyclones, droughts or blizzards, and where there are unequalled markets for all kinds of farm and garden products. ON AN ORDINANCE.

To Provide For Taking the Sense of the Voters of the Sixth Ward of Maysville, Ky., Upon the Question as to Whether it Shall be Lawful For Stock to Run at Large in Said Ward and After January 1st, 1895.

Be it ordained by the Board of Commissioners of the City of Maysville, Ky., that the election shall be held in the Sixth Ward of the City of Maysville, Ky., on the 15th day of November, 1894, by the qualified voters of said ward, at the same time and place as the election for Mayor and other officers is held, upon the question as to whether it shall be lawful for stock to run at large in said ward, and the Clerk of the Police in said ward shall certify the result of said election to the City Council at its next meeting.

And it is further ordained that the same shall be in effect from and after its passage.

Witness my hand and the seal of said City in Council Chamber, this 1st day of October, 1894.

THE LEDGER!

WHAT sickly and silly sentimentalism! Here are members of the Democratic Congressional Committee and Senator FAULKNER of West Virginia in a dreadful state of mind because the Free traders of London invited Representative WILSON, Chairman of the Democratic Committee of Ways and Means, to a grand banquet. The courtesy appears to people on this side a cheap way of paying a big debt, says The New York Tribune, and yet in its fashion an honest and manly way. Chairman WILSON has served the British industries and British commerce better than any other man in this country for the last thirty years, except President CLEVELAND, and the President does not happen to be in London and within range of honors or social courtesies. Mr. WILSON is there, and in some remarks recently published has graciously informed his British friends that the fight for Free-trade on this side has only just begun, and that he and his party mean to do a great deal better than they yet have done in the way of promoting British instead of American Industries. It would have been shabby in the last degree if such distinguished performance and such gratifying promises had not been thought worthy of recognition.

The trouble with the Democratic Congressional Committee and with Senator FAULKNER is that they have been trying to deceive somebody and Chairman WILSON lets the cat out of the bag. They have been pretending in some parts of the country, and especially in the mining regions of West Virginia, that the Democratic Congress and its Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means have earned undying gratitude by Protecting American industries, utterly in contempt of Democratic pledges. Duties on iron ore and coal remain, though Chairman WILSON and the Democratic House did their best, or pretended to do their best, to get Free-trade in both. It is true that the duties are only about half those imposed by the Republican Tariff, and foreign competition is felt already in the depression of wages, and is sure to be felt in the Atlantic states, if not further inland, when business revives enough to give mine operators or mine workers a chance to get a decent living. But the Democrats have found it convenient to say that these duties on coal and iron ore were graciously retained by the Democrats in the Senate, and that other partially Protective duties on glass manufactures of iron and steel and manufactures of cotton and wool were in the same way retained.

It is when the Democrats are engaged in befrooling voters to the best of their ability, and pretending to be Protectionists in the mines and Free-traders on the cotton plantations, that Chairman WILSON recklessly consents to be wounded and dined by the British Free-traders in honor of his great services. One must admit that it is trying for the committee, but would not have been if the committee had not tried to cheat anybody. Had the plain truth been told in every part of the country alike, had it been made known that Chairman WILSON of West Virginia agreed to take off all duties from iron and coal in the House, with the private understanding that two Democratic Senators might then get the credit of putting them back, at least in part, possibly the Free-traders might not have been so enthusiastic over Mr. WILSON, and the voters of West Virginia, if a little disgusted, might not have been so angry.

The Wilson Tariff was for the benefit of British industries and trade, nevertheless, and if it did not go as far as some greedy manufacturers on the other side desired, it went far enough to close 40 per cent. of the Iron producing works in this country. For so much Britons are properly grateful, and they rejoice the more to be assured that the struggle has only begun, and that Free-traders in this country have far greater victories for Great Britain yet in store. The only question is whether the voters of West Virginia will greet the victory in the past, and the other victories promised for the future, with an enthusiasm equal to that which welcomed Mr. WILSON at the London banquet.
